Business Intelligence Solutions

With the pace of business change today, most companies are challenged to keep up, and it's even more difficult to get ahead. Satisfying customers, cutting costs, and increasing your competitive edge requires quick decisions. But more important than making a quick decision is making the right decision - and recognising a wrong decision quickly. If you worry that you don't have the information you need to handle these challenges, it may make sense to your business to take a look at a new Business Intelligence solution.

BSG's business intelligence solutions make it easier for you to make faster and better decisions.

BSG specialises in providing organisations with Business Intelligence solutions that connect systems and people, and integrate data across your organisation. These advanced technology tools can give you, your management team, and your employee's timely access to relevant information - so you can all make better decisions and minimise the damage from wrong decisions.

Using advanced Microsoft® tools such as SQL Server 2005, Microsoft Visual Studio® 2005, and Microsoft BizTalk® Server 2006, we can help you sharpen your organisation's competitive edge with:

- Real-time visibility into business operations and trend.
- Robust and custom-designed analytics and reporting solutions.
- Anytime, anywhere access to business data.

Using SQL Server 2005 as your base for business wide data visibility, you will gain the following benefits:

- An integrated platform for your existing enterprise applications.
- Improved decision making.
- Increased security and availability.
- Businesswide analytical capabilities.

Why BSG?

BSG is a Microsoft Gold Partner with the Advanced Infrastructure and Information Worker Solutions Competencies. As a Microsoft partner BSG is a rare breed due to its ability to design and deploy both application solutions and the infrastructure solutions those applications run on.

BSG's Advanced Infrastructure competency recognises its competency in crafting high-availability infrastructure solutions utilising the Windows 2003 server family, and Exchange 2003. BSG's Information Worker Solution competency recognises its ability to creating solutions that increase the communication and collaboration capabilities of any organisation by bringing together the Microsoft product family.

This means that BSG is best placed to offer you fully integrated end-to-end solutions for:

- Data management
- Interactive reporting and analysis
- Business intelligence
- Integrating existing enterprise applications
- Business performance management
- Custom application development

In addition BSG is able to operate those solutions:

- As a managed service via a defined SLA
- Hosted within BSG's data centres via a defined SLA
- Updated and enhanced as required
